Description of the Budoshin White Tiger Hapkido Logo
Combination of Japanese / Okinawan, Korean, Thai & Chinese Arts

The Outline:

The top represents our defenses like water flowing around a rock and attacks rolling off and not being absorbed.

The lightning bolts on each side represent our action/reaction to deal with protection of ourselves or loved ones.

The curves on both sides below the lightning bolts work like rubber bands that redirected an attack out and away from oneself.

The bottom represents the razor sharp edge used to move swiftly and smoothly through an attack and escape without being harmed.

{mospagebreak title=The Colors}

The Colors:

Red represents the blood Jesus shed for us on Calvary.
Black represents the sin we all have in our lives.

White represents the being washed as white as snow after accepting Jesus as our Savior
Yellow represents the streets of gold that we look forward to walk on one day when we get to heaven.
Blue is to remind us to keep looking toward the sky for that our Lord and Savior will return one day.

Gray represents the area in our minds that is not yet used up that we may always continue to learn and fill it up daily.

{mospagebreak title=The Writing / Pictures}

The Writing & Pictures:
The universal symbol with the cross in the center represents a Christ Center Universe.
Japanese Kanji on the left side means Budoshin (Bu- warrior, Do - way, Shin - chivalious or knightly)
Korean Hangel on the right side means White Tiger. (Actual writing from one of my instructors Master Kang Rhee)

Korean Hangel under the white tiger means Hapkido. The White Tiger is a unique animal as is the BWTH System.

The White Tiger also represents Japanese / Okinawan Karate-Do / Jitsu.

The White Tiger stands for Strength, Speed and Power while our understanding comes from God.

The H is the inital for the Founder of the Budoshin White Tiger Hapkido System- Craig Hamm.
